

Quality and compliance challenges in healthcare

The MarkeTech Group surveyed 150 healthcare professionals across the US and Europe to learn about the challenges they face with managing quality and assuring compliance of their medical display assets.

Key findings

say the complexity of complying with changing QC guidelines is difficult to manage say the time spent on managing quality is increasing

Consolidation means more work

90% say the number of workstations they need to manage is growing

77% say they are responsible for the quality of home reading workstations

73% say it is a challenge to manage the growing number of remote facilities

Regulations are ever-changing believe it is difficult to keep up with changing regulatory and reporting requirements

struggle to understand regional guidelines

Too much reporting, too little time

80% say the reporting required to prepare for audits is a challenge

79% say the time it takes to document and create reports is growing

Security concerns

85% of IT managers say security threats are a growing concern in hospitals

84% struggle to manage security compliance risks

What makes IT managers happy?

91%

want to remotely troubleshoot and deploy fixes

90%

want an overview of all their assets from anywhere at anytime

88%

want a dashboard view of all their workstations

Effortless reporting makes the difference

87%

want customizable reports

86%

want quality reports

56%

want compliance reports

The solution? QAWeb Enterprise!

automation of calibration, testing, compliance and reporting medium-sized facilities can save at least 10% off their medical displays servicing bill

$226,000

annual savings

generated by 4 large US IDNs (Integrated Delivery Networks) thanks to QAWeb